Our mission of advocacy, education, research, and direct financial relief to firefighters and their family's affected by cancer. The Virginia Chapter of the Fire Fighter Cancer Foundation was established in memory of Johnny Thomas, a Prince William County firefighter, who lost his battle with cancer. While he was unable to defeat this awful disease, his memory lives on and we continue to provide hope to those in need.

The FFCF provided assistance and education needed to make changes within the fire service. The Johnny Thomas Foundation has worked for years to make changes in Prince William County and provided direct assistance to those in need. The two foundations partnered and continue to focus their efforts to reduce carcinogen exposure, educate firefighters and leadership, support research initiatives, and improve the quality of life for those battling cancer. The Virginia Chapter of the FFCF was formed in memory of Jonny Thomas so that his loving spirit will forever touch the lives of those impacted with cancer in the fire service.
